Earth Trek Hong Kong has launched a new webcam hub. It is the new Travelling Webcam hub.

It is a smart looking gadget and features in it a 1.3 megapixel camera with auto-focus, auto-brightness and a kick stand and a 2-port USB hub. The camera offers VGA quality images, that is, images with 640x480 pixels of resolution.

It has metal sliding cover, a button for clicking a snap, reflective mirror assisting the cam and LED light. Also incorporated is a mic.

The aim of this hub is to avoid the scratches on the user's LCD display screen with its design and since it comes with USB ports, it is one of the gadgets one would want to carry along while traveling. Well it is a neat looking device but has been touted to be the "hottest webcam" by its maker!

The webcam hub can be expected for a price that ranges between $45 and $50.
